Disney's Lion King Kids at Forest Street Community School

Forest Street School presented Disney's Lion King Kids on May 16 -18. The story is an abbreviated version of the Disney movie and long-running Broadway musical, presented in cooperation with Disney Musicals in Schools and the New Jersey Center for Performing Arts. It is the coming of age tale of the young lion cub Simba who is destined to rule Pridelands, as his father Mufasa explains the "Circle of Life," and he happily rejoices "I Just Can't Wait to be King." His destiny is foiled when his uncle Scar kills his father, and he flees the Pridelands, leaving his friend Nala and finding new companions in the jungle with Timon and Pumbaa, who embrace "Hakuna Matata," a worry-free attitude. When Nala goes in search of help because of the disaster created by Scar's leadership and his alliance with hyenas, she discovers her old friend Simba. Nala convinces Simba to return to be the rightful ruler of Pridelands.

The young actors, dancers and crew members put on an entertaining production for the audience. Credit is also given to the production staff. Principal Dr. Yancisca Loften-Cooke stated, "Special thanks to our creative team, Director and Choreographer Theresa Jones and Assistant Directors Monique Walker and Torenzo Blair, and all the staff of Lion King Kids, who have spent many long hours rehearsing to prepare our young cast members."

The other staff members who were applauded for their efforts included Assistant Producer Bill Donnelly, who organized a superb “Playbill,” Production Manager Avril Bogle, Production Assistant Alejandrina Mueses, Stage Manager Jacob Warta and Music Director Daniela Antunes. Dr. Cooke, also a producer for the production, thanked Ernesto Lorenzo, Forest Street Community School’s site coordinator, who was photographer and videographer for the musical.

A Celebration of Haitian Heritage Month

The Haitian Heritage team at Lincoln Avenue School organized a Haitian heritage month celebration on May 17 that included an audience of the student body, staff, family and friends. The group included Mrs. Philemon, Mrs. Dover, Mrs. Hefter, Mrs. Betancourt, Mrs. Thomas, Mr. Vignola, Ms. Begy, Ms. Caprice, Ms. Davis, Ms. Goyes, Ms. Alvarado and Ms. Zambrano. Students, who asked for the celebration, presented an informative review of Haitian history and culture. They read compositions about the history of Haiti, the Haitian flag, the people and culture, language, religion, sports, and Haitian cuisine.

The celebration included recognition of Haitian Flag Day held on May 18, a major patriotic day celebrated in Haiti and by the Haitian diaspora. Students recited the Haitian flag Salute and sang the national anthem of Haiti. The program comprised several energetic dance performances and songs including the patriotic Haitian song “Ayiti Cherie.”

Famous Haitians were highlighted, notable Wyclef Jean. Two special guests also addressed the gathering, Mr. Ernst Lozin, a Montclair State University student, and Ms. Sabrina Georges, both entrepreneurs, with ties to the Orange Public School district (former students and residents). They were an inspiration to the students.

Forest Street Parents as Literacy Supporters (PALS)

Submitted by Jacquelyn Blanton, Principal Orange Early Childhood Center

Forest Street Community School’s preschool classes hosted Parents as Literacy Supporters (PALS) on March 22. PALS was born out of an initiative to celebrate parents as their child’s first teacher, to provide families with a format to experience the joy of literature and to help parents reinforce important early literacy skills at home. The program establishes and sustains a home school connection and supports preschool student’s literacy achievement.

Ms. Larue/Ms. Gelin and Ms. Jordan/Ms. Humphrey’s students, and their parents and siblings had a fun filled and educational afternoon. Attendance was outstanding, with 79% of all preschool families participating. The excitement began with Ms. Larue (with the help of Ms. Gelin, Ms. Strelec and Ms. McCann) sharing the story “The Little Red Hen” with the group. Everyone enjoyed the puppets and the effort to create a story map.

Next, we all joined Ms. McCann, of Global FoodCorps, in the greenhouse. All of the children had the opportunity to plant Mung beans. This helped them connect their own life experience to the text that was just read. Finally, every participating student was able to take home a snack and a free book in English or Spanish for his or her home library!

NJDOT and NJTPA Announce Nearly $20 Million in Federal Grants to Improve Local Transportation

Safe Routes to School grants funding will help municipalities make pedestrian safety improvements (NJDOT press release – see note below)

(Trenton) - New Jersey Department of Transportation (NJDOT) in partnership with the North Jersey Transportation Planning Authority (NJTPA) today announced the awarding of nearly $20 million in 27 federal grants under the Safe Routes to School \(SRTS\) and Transportation Alternatives Set-Asides (TA Set-Asides) programs.

“As part of NJDOT’s commitment to communities, we work with the three regional planning authorities to provide federal funding to counties and municipalities for local transportation projects that improve safety and strengthen the cultural, aesthetic, and environmental aspects of our transportation system,” NJDOT Commissioner Diane Gutierrez-Scaccetti said. “The Safe Routes to School grants will provide resources to local communities throughout New Jersey to enhance our sidewalks and crosswalks to allow our children to safely walk or bike to school.”

The SRTS and TA Set-Asides are both federally-funded programs. SRTS was established in 2005 to increase pedestrian safety awareness among motorists and schoolchildren. The TA Set-Asides program was established by Congress in 2012 and is funded through a set aside of the Federal Aid Highway Program to provide funds for community based "non-traditional" projects that strengthen the cultural, aesthetic, and environmental aspects of the nation's intermodal system.

The programs are administered by the NJDOT in partnership with the NJTPA, Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission (DVRPC) and the South Jersey Transportation Planning Organization (SJTPO). The grants announced today are for projects within the NJTPA region. The DVRPC and SJTPO will announce their grants later this month.

Safe Routes to School

The Safe Routes to School program was created to encourage children, including those with disabilities, to walk and bike to school. These 11 grants announced today totaling \$5.8 million will provide local governments within the NJTPA region the ability to make pedestrian safety improvements near K-8 schools.

The goal is to make bicycling and walking to school a safer and more appealing transportation alternative, thereby encouraging a healthy and active lifestyle from an early age; and to implement projects that will improve safety, and reduce traffic, fuel consumption, and air pollution in the vicinity of schools.

Infrastructure improvement projects to be funded through the program include the construction of sidewalks, bikeway lanes, and multi-use paths; and the installation of new crosswalks, school-zone markings, and speed-limit signs.

Note: The City of Orange has been awarded a $1 Million New Jersey Transportation Alternatives and Safe Routes to School Grant that will provide the city with the ability to make pedestrian safety improvements near and around Park Avenue School, a 2018 GOLD LEVEL Safe Routes to School awardee! During 2017, Orange Public Schools collaborated with the city to conduct a walk audit around the school, which provided the necessary documentation for the grant application.
