Orange High School and Orange Preparatory Academy Present 12 Angry Men

Orange, NJ (November 2015) – The Visual and Performing Arts Department of Orange High School (OHS), in association with Orange Preparatory Academy (OPA), proudly presents 12 Angry Men, a cutting edge award winning drama that is as relevant today as it was 60 years ago when it was first shown. When a trial ends and 12 people walk into a jury room, all with their own prejudices and misconceptions, what really happens? Is it possible to be tried by a jury or one's peers? Is it possible to stand with one's beliefs, no matter what? 12 Angry Men will leave you asking questions and seeking answers.

General Seating Performances are December 3, 4, and 5: Thursday and Friday at 7:00 pm and two Saturday shows with a 2:00 pm matinee and 7:00 pm final performance. Student and senior citizen discount tickets are available.

Dana Levin, Director, is excited about the opportunity to direct this timeless yet powerful work. Most recently, Ms. Levin directed the OHS/OPA jaw-dropping production of Elton John and Tim Rice's Aida: The Musical. She also has previously directed Sherlock Holmes, The Great Gatsby, Little Shop of Horrors, and The 25th Annual Putman County Spelling Bee. Ms. Levin additionally serves as the advisor of the OHS chapter of the International Thespian Society and directs the OHS Drama Showcase. Ms. Levin states, "I have seen the growth of this program over the past few years blossom into excellent stage presentations. Our students are developing their repertoire and skill-base. Those students who may not like to sing or dance (in a musical) often come out to act in the fall play and/or assist in Stage Crew. There are many other students who just live and breathe "theater" and here is when they shine!"

Mr. Mike Seidel, Theater Arts teacher at OPA returns to the OPA/OHS Theater team as Assistant Director for another amazing production. In the spring, he had his OPA/OHS debut as Assistant Director for Aida: The Musical. He has directed and produced musicals such as Willy Wonka Jr., Treasure Island and his original play, Elfgood.

Donna Sinisgalli, Supervisor of Visual & Performing Arts for the Orange Public School District stated, "In the Orange District, we proudly present the play, "12 Angry Men." I would like to congratulate the students and staff who dedicated their time and worked tirelessly to put on the best possible play for your enjoyment. Your attendance and applause is their reward, and we thank you for coming."

12 Angry Men will be presented at Orange Preparatory Academy Auditorium, located at the intersection of Lincoln and Central Avenues, in Orange, New Jersey. The theatre is wheelchair-accessible with assisted listening units available for the hearing impaired. General seating tickets may be purchased in advance for $5.00. They may also be purchased at the door for $7.00. Tickets are also available for senior citizens and students (with a valid student identification card) for $5.00 at all times. Please email donohupa@orange.k12.nj.us with any questions.

Lincoln Avenue School Events

Submitted by Mrs. Wendy Mir, Music Teacher, Lincoln Avenue School

Celebrating International Festival

In October, Lincoln Avenue School celebrated their International Festival with food, family and friends! Families, staff, and the school donated food representing various countries. There was a DJ playing dance music while dining, and various groups performed. The primary students sang out an invitation to 'Vamos a la Fiesta', the LAS Dance Group performed 'Se Formo la Gozadera', the United Puerto Rican Council Youth Group performed a wonderful folk dance 'El Baile De los Palitos', and winding up the night was the outstanding 'Azuquita', who performed a tribute to Celia Cruz that was so phenomenal, everyone closed their eyes and thought Celia herself was in the house! The night ended with a Piñata and raffle, making for a fantastic time!

Lincoln Visits SOPA

In November, the students of the Lincoln Avenue Chorus Club participated in the WBGO Kids Jazz Concert Series - a free event presented by radio station WBGO that teaches children the "distinct qualities of jazz, and why it's a reflection of our community, our nation, and our world." The students visited the South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC) and were treated to the superb vocals of jazz singer Brianna Thomas.

Watch for the spring WBGO Jazz series, starting up again in April 2016!

A Look Back at Oakwood Avenue Community School Activities

Submitted by Ms. Pamela Venable, School Counselor, Oakwood Avenue Community School

An Event for October, the Month of Respect

The Outreach Coordinator from Covenant House had an important message for Oakwood Avenue's Middle School 5th through 7th grade students . . . be your own person. Students were encouraged not to be followers and to focus their attention on their studies. Students were told that, "Even if you think your parents are getting on your nerves and joining a gang would help solve your problems, think twice. There are no positive outcomes by taking part in gang activity." Sports, Scouting, Martial Arts, Dance and other types of extra-curricular activities were presented as alternatives.

McGruff the Crime Dog Visits Oakwood Avenue Community School

The Message from McGruff the Crime Dog, the Coordinator of the Orange Township Crime Prevention Program for youth is, "See Something Say Something!" If you witness someone being bullied make sure that you tell a trusted adult. The students heard inspiring/informative messages from City officials including a member of the Orange Police Department. Students in grades 4 through 7 were warned about cyber bullying. They were told that social media has become a means for bullies to taunt people and they should stop and think of the consequences before doing anything negative. And once again, McGruff reminded all to, "Take a Bite Out of Crime", and "if you see something wrong, please say something to a trusted adult!"

Oakwood Avenue Community School Receives an Important Lesson From the Orange Fire Department

When there is a fire in your home "get out and stay out!" Even if you believe that you are able to return and help someone else, never make that attempt. That was the message for students. Leave the job of fire rescue to the Orange Fire Department. Call the Orange Fire Department from a neighbor's home. And it is important to use a landline when making the 911 emergency calls to the fire department because using a mobile cell phone directs the calls to Trenton before the call is redirected to the county and city in which the fire is actually taking place.

The firefighters did some hands on activities to demonstrate what firefighters go through to prepare to go out on an emergency call; they also used some of our Oakwood staff to teach a lesson about the importance of fire safety and the fire equipment. Before closing, the firefighters stressed the importance of having an emergency plan to escape homes, should the need arise.

November Board of Education Meeting

Heywood Avenue School hosted the November Board of Education Meeting. The students, under the leadership of Principal, Ms. Faith Alcantara and Assistant Principal, Mr. Gerald Murphy, reflected on the Week of Respect and honored Veteran's Day.

After the opening flag salute, led by Cassandra Dawson, Principal Alcantara introduced students Gabrielle Fisher and Jayden Honeyghan who read their school essays on respect. The essays highlighted respect for self, others and your school.

They were followed by a "Respect" dance performance, directed by Ms. Theresa Jones, Dance Teacher at Heywood Avenue School.

Afterwards, there was a musical tribute in honor of Veteran's Day. Students, Tisonellia Robinson and Austin Pinnock, played "America" on the clarinet. Instrumental Music Teacher, Mrs. Erin-Leigh VanOrden, accompanied them on the trumpet, as students raised the seals of the various branches of the military. Since Principal Alcantara is a veteran, as well as Board President Cristina Mateo and Board member Jeffrey Wingfield, this was a fitting tribute.

Student of the Month:

Superintendent Ronald C. Lee and Board of Education President, Ms. Cristina Mateo, presented students with certificates for being selected Student of the Month (SOTM). On a monthly basis, students are recognized for exemplary behavior, academics and citizenship by their school. The students honored were:

Name	School
Ashley Ashithey	Orange High School (OHS)
Nathaly M. Arrojo	Career and Innovation Academy of Orange (CIAO)
Romeo Rowe	Orange Preparatory Academy (“The Prep”)
Kay Dranique McFarlane	Cleveland Street School
Jada Guillaume	Rosa Parks Community School (RPCS)
Ahnyee Coleman	Park Avenue School
Edna Lucas-Espinal	Heywood Avenue School
Carla Yesenia Plaza-Carro	Forest Street School
Genesis Nova	Oakwood Avenue Community School (OACS)
Jonnatan Mejia	Lincoln Avenue School

Parent of the Month

Pictured: Mrs. Espinal, her family, Principal Alcantara, Board President Mateo and Superintendent Lee.

The Heywood family recognized the help they have received from Mrs. Maria Espinal, the school's Parent of the Month. Mrs. Espinal has supported Heywood Avenue School for over eight years, volunteering at events, providing needed supplies and being a helping hand whenever asked. Specifically, during "Heywood Beautification Day," held last year and facilitated by the National Junior Honor Society, Mrs. Espinal purchased and delivered two separate truckloads of mulch that was needed when supplies ran out, as participants spruced up the front entrance of the school. She assisted in unloading and spreading the mulch in the landscaped areas.

Further, during the school year, Mrs. Espinal communicates with her daughters' teachers to ask if she can assist with any classroom needs. She also helps to steer parents in the right direction for school information they may need for their children. Mrs. Espinal is involved with the school and PTA events, offering her assistance in any way she can. Heywood is fortunate to have Mrs. Espinal as a parent and wants to thank her for her time and support.

Superintendent's Report

During the meeting Mr. Lee gave his Superintendent's Report in which he reviewed his Merit Goals, approved by the Board. The review included acknowledging the successful implementation of the Parent Academy and the attainment of improved High School Proficiency Assessment scores by students.

Additionally, Mr. Lee gave a status on the district's plan to open a STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) Academy at the former Marylawn School in South Orange. He indicated that a successful breakfast meeting was held with key influencers and subject matter experts in the burgeoning field of STEM. Mr. Lee also reported that he and his administrative staff have visited several high performing STEM schools in the area, to gain insight into the development criteria for opening the Orange STEM Academy. He indicated that the district is excited about the prospects of launching a second high school for Orange's students.

At the close of the meeting, board members made comments on their attendance at the New Jersey School Boards Association Conference. They were positive about the value of the conference in gaining a perspective on what other districts are doing and understanding that Orange is “in a good place.”

Heywood Avenue School Board Lobby Art Show

On November 11, Heywood Avenue School held its Art Show Opening at the Board of Education. The walls of the lobby were completely lined with a variety of artwork by students representing all grade levels. The work included drawings in watercolor, crayons, collages, and diagrams. There were pictures of turkeys, owls, smiley faces, rockets and more. Art teacher, Mrs. Kelly Clark (pictured below with Principal Alcantara) said there were over 150 pieces in the exhibit.

The event was well attended, with excited students sharing their pieces with their families and friends. The Supervisor of Visual and Performing Arts (VP&A), Mrs. Donna Sinisgalli, welcomed all and Principal Faith Alcantara thanked families and staff for their attendance and support.

Students were presented with a certificate of participation, acknowledging their work and budding talents. Also present to congratulate each student were Dr. Terri Russo, Director of Curriculum, Instruction, Professional Development, and Data Assessment, Mrs. Belinda Scott Smiley, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent for Operations and Human Resources and Mr. Gerald Murphy, Assistant Principal at Heywood Avenue School.

Teen Author Kyle Dixon III Visits Park Avenue Students

Kyle Dixon III is the 13-year-old author of Jay Bubblebee. He wrote the book after struggling in school as a special needs student. Kyle captured his difficulties and how he overcame his obstacles in two separate presentations for Park Avenue students on November 19. He is a dynamic speaker and storyteller, who provided the backdrop about how he began writing after receiving a journal from his mother and encouragement to write down what was happening in his life and how he felt. He made several points to students about being the best you can be and never giving up. Kyle presented two students in each assembly with journals he made, letting them know that you are never too young to follow your dreams. The students selected from the audience asked questions of Kyle, about how he wrote and got his book published. Kyle explained that the story he wrote about was a reflection of his life and detailed the process of finding a publisher and the rewards of traveling to speak with students.

Park's Media Specialist, Linda Martelli, arranged Kyle's visit. He was well received by the students and staff.

Orange Early Childhood Center Celebrates El Dia de Los Ninos y Los Libros

On November 19, the Department of Early Childhood Education held El Día de Los Niños y Los Libros (The Day of the Children, the Day of the Book) at the Orange Early Childhood Center. El Día is a celebration designed to support literacy at home, celebrate culture and strengthen the home school connection. The event emphasized the importance of advocating literacy for children of all linguistic and cultural backgrounds.

Families from the district's Early Childhood facilities were invited to the event. This year, approximately 80 families attended El Día, representing approximately 240 adults and children. At the event, families registered and were given a passport that was stamped after visiting various classrooms where they enjoyed storytelling, songs, crafts, games and face painting. After receiving a stamp on their passport, children were given a book. At the event, $ 8,000.00 worth of books were given to the attendees!

Principal Jacquelyn Blanton, of the Orange Early Childhood Center, was very pleased with the turnout. She shared Master Teacher Julia Jasper's comments in which the "spirit and dedication of the team" that arranged a successful family event were thanked. The entire team consisted of at least 40 volunteers.

Orange Teen Summit 2015 - Part 1

Submitted by Mrs. Laura Sacks, School Nurse, Orange Preparatory Academy

The 6th annual Teen Summit, sponsored by the Orange Public School district, was held on November 13 and November 14. With dedicated staff from the district and numerous student volunteers to facilitate the event, over 400 students from 6th grade to 12th grade, and parents and guardians, participated in a summit that was charged with the challenge to help participants “Get It Together” - a reference to learning how to become healthier – physically, emotionally, and socially.

Superintendent Ronald C. Lee opened the summit and welcomed everyone. Mykee S. Fowlin, actor, psychologist and poet, performed an inspiring presentation focusing on the social/emotional aspects of wellness entitled, “You Don’t Know Me ‘til You Know Me.” Next, there was a panel discussion, “Let Our Voices be Heard.” Joel Lemke and Luke Russo, who are teachers in the district, moderated the panel. Students shared their ideas about what changes they would like to see in the schools and within the Orange community. They subsequently developed an action plan that will be developed in the next few months. These students took the opportunity to truly make a difference in the community. The panel discussion was an addition asked for by Superintendent Lee. “I am pleased that we were able to provide a platform for our teens and their families and to hear actionable concerns from our students,” said Mr. Lee. The evening concluded with a song by Troy Bell & J Factor and an offering of delicious desserts donated by Chartwell, the district’s food service. Troy Bell also served as the evening’s MC.

On Saturday, there were numerous workshops and presentations. Dr. Eddie Jumper, from the NJ Community Research Initiative, discussed wellness in all aspects of our lives. There were life workshops for students, including: Dealing with Relationships and Friends, Discovering Your Social Identity, AP Classes, Sports, Community Service, Music – Managing it All, and Doing it Well (and Still Being Cool). The adults also had a workshop, Introduction to the Health Initiative for Orange Public Schools and the Community, moderated by Elliott Lee, Communications Relations Officer, with assistance by Rachel Bland, Community School Site Coordinator. Superintendent Ronald C. Lee and Mayor Dwayne D. Warren were involved in the discussion that included parents, along with Council Members Donna K. Williams and Elroy Corbitt.

Other highlights of the day included a special presentation, “Operation Conversation” which shared information about community building blocks – trust, respect, and positive attitudes. Ain Farrow and Lisa Taitt from the Junior League of the Oranges and Short Hills led the discussion.

In the afternoon, Rutgers University students from the girls' lacrosse team discussed getting into college and sports scholarships. They led a lacrosse workshop later in the day. Another feature was a presentation on health careers led by Marie M. Jackson, DMD from Stellar Smile Center. The women had a workshop with Tatiana Etienne, Don't Wait to Lose the Weight, and the men had a workshop with a personal trainer. The fun workshops at the end included makeovers with a famous make-up artist, an acting workshop with an acting coach, yoga, hip-hop, and for the first time, filmmaking and video production.

There were a number of people and businesses that were also involved. These included: a donation of books by “bookBgone,” representatives from Investors Bank, True Youth, Inc., a youth empowerment organization, Carol Lukoff and her free book giveaway, Marie Jackson, DMD, who taught good dental routines.

Event organizer, Mrs. Laura Sacks, School Nurse at Orange Preparatory Academy, worked hard to facilitate the event. She is especially grateful to those who helped to make the event a success. “We want to thank the Orange Board of Education, Superintendent Lee and our Business Administrator, Mr. Adekunle James for their support in making the summit happen. We are forever grateful for their backing and thoughtfulness in every aspect of this endeavor.” Mrs. Sacks also acknowledged that teachers Linne Mondestin and Glenn Gamble helped facilitate the event, adding that both individuals were invaluable. Ms. Mondestin helped with the promotional materials for the event and Mr. Gamble helped to coordinate the kitchen responsibilities with the student volunteers. They set up, served the meals, and cleaned up.

Further, states Mrs. Sacks, “We are especially thankful for all our volunteers and staff members and grateful and appreciative for all the donations.” She is especially thankful to the Orange Educational Foundation for the generous donation of two wireless Beats by Dre and the City of Orange, and Mayor Dwayne D. Warren for supporting and participating in the summit. Mayor Warren is also thanked for his donation of a Solo 2 wireless Beats by Dre.

There is a second summit planned for Saturday, April 2. The theme is expected to be "Together, We Can Make a Difference." The plan is to have participants help strategize how to make the community in Orange healthier, since Orange Public Schools was one of the recipients of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation grants. The grant challenges communities across New Jersey to make changes and create long-term solutions for healthier living. "We look forward to sharing news about Part 2 in the next few months," said Mrs. Sacks.
