The screenshot shows the TutorMe Lesson Space interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with icons for Whiteboard, Calculator, Text Editor, Code Editor, Google Docs, and File Sharing. Below this is a toolbar with various drawing and editing tools. The main area is a whiteboard with a grid background. On the left, there's a right-angled triangle with a vertical leg of length 6 and a horizontal leg of length 8. The hypotenuse is labeled with a red 'x'. To the right of the triangle, there's a list of equations: $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$, $6^2 + 8^2 = x^2$, $36 + 64 = x^2$, $\sqrt{100} = \sqrt{x^2}$, and $10 = x$. The equation $10 = x$ is circled in red. Below the equations, there's a red handwritten note that says "what is x?". On the right side of the interface, there's a video chat window showing a tutor named Sheila A. (Tutor) and a chat window with a message: "Hello! I need help with my assignment about the pythagorean theorem." The chat window also shows the date and time: "JUL 17TH, 11:15AM".
