Essential Questions: How did the United States become an industrialized society after the Civil War? What causes labor unions to organize?

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings:

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings Covered in Section:

Students will know the various resources that enabled the United States to industrialize quickly, how the spread of railroads changed the nation, the rise of large-scale businesses and their different forms of organization, the rise of organized labor, and the reasons it failed to achieve its major goals.

Skill based learning will include reading and interpreting maps, census data, graphs, charts, photographs, political cartoons, timelines and primary and secondary sources. Teachers will introduce the students to the historian's craft (interpretation through research to compare and contrast texts in different forms and to evaluate an argument, as well as informative/explanatory and argumentative writing).

The students will acquire historical understanding of the changing roles of minorities and women, the growth of African American social, political, cultural and economic institutions, the expansion of capitalism, the unionization of labor, the intensification of racial segregation, xenophobia, increased literacy and its implications, and that economic systems shape relationships in society.

Objectives:
Students will be able to summarize the conditions that helped the United States industrialize in the late-nineteenth century, identify the important changes that the railroad industry brought to the nation, outline how larger-scale industrialization increased fixed costs while lowering operating costs, and categorize different information about the major industrial strikes during this time.

Research to Build and Present Knowledge

CCSS.ELA-Literacy.W.11-12.7 Conduct short as well as more sustained research projects to answer a question (including a self-generated question) or solve a problem; narrow or broaden the inquiry when appropriate; synthesize multiple sources on the subject, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation.

Essential Questions: Can politics fix social problems? What conditions create social movements for change?

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings:

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings Covered in Section:

Students will know the nature of the social problems that progressives hoped to solve, the progressive philosophies of Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft, and how Wilson's philosophies differed from those of Roosevelt.
Skill based learning will include reading and interpreting maps, census data, graphs, charts, photographs, political cartoons, timelines and primary and secondary sources. Teachers will introduce the students to the historian’s craft (interpretation through research to compare and contrast texts in different forms and to evaluate an argument, as well as informative/explanatory and argumentative writing).

The students will acquire historical understanding of the changing roles of minorities and women, the growth of African American social, political, cultural and economic institutions, the expansion of capitalism, the unionization of labor, the intensification of racial segregation, xenophobia, increased literacy and its implications, and that learning about the past helps us understand the present and make decisions about the future.

Objectives:
Students will be able to identify the progressives and what they believed caused social problems, summarize how the progressives hoped to make government more efficient and responsive to citizens, explain how President Roosevelt supported conservation, describe how President Taft’s beliefs differed from the progressive’s beliefs, analyze contrasting ideas within a political philosophy, and describe the successes and failures of progressivism.

Essential Questions: How did the Cold War shape postwar international relations? How did Cold War tensions affect American society?

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings:

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings Covered in Section:

Students will know the decisions made by President Truman during the first years of the Cold War, the theory of containment and how it influenced U.S. foreign policy, the impact of the Red Scare on Cold War America, and the reasons Eisenhower used massive retaliation and brinkmanship to maintain peace.

Skill based learning will include reading and interpreting maps, census data, graphs, charts, photographs, political cartoons, timelines and primary and secondary sources. Teachers will introduce the students to the historian’s craft (interpretation through research to compare and contrast texts in different forms and to evaluate an argument, as well as narrative and argumentative writing).

The students will acquire historical understanding of the ideological debates and confrontations of democracy, capitalism, socialism and communism; the arms race, and the consequences of foreign and domestic policies in the 1950’s, and that countries are affected by their relationships with each other.

Objectives:
Students will be able to explain how the Potsdam Conference increased tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union, describe how the spread of the Cold War beyond Europe caused the United States to be involved in an armed conflict less than five years after WWII ended, understand the effects of the Red Scare on people, policies, and culture in the United States, and analyze whether Eisenhower’s policies were effective.

Assessments:
| Formative: Do-Now, Class Participation, and Exit Tickets | Summative: Document based analysis. | Authentic: Argumentative and Narrative Responses

CCSS.ELA-Literacy.W.11-12.8 Gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the strengths and limitations of each source in terms of the task, purpose, and audience; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and over reliance on any one source and following a standard format for citation.

Essential Questions: Can government fix society's problems? How do you think President Kennedy and Johnson changed American society?

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings:

Skills/Knowledge/Understandings Covered in Section:

Students will know the importance of the Warren Court rulings and how they dramatically reshaped U.S. politics and society, the foreign policy crisis faced by the Kennedy administration such as the Bay of Pigs invasion, the construction of the Berlin Wall, and the Cuban missile crisis, and the reasons for Johnson's War on Poverty and the successes and failures of these programs.

Skill based learning will include reading and interpreting maps, census data, graphs, charts, photographs, political cartoons, timelines and primary and secondary sources. Teachers will introduce the students to the historian’s craft (interpretation through research to compare and contrast texts in different forms and to evaluate an argument, as well as narrative and argumentative writing).

The students will acquire historical understanding of the ideological debates and confrontations of democracy, capitalism, socialism and communism; the arms race, domestic and foreign policies in the 1960’s, and the struggle for individual rights and equality often shapes a society’s politics.

Objectives:
Students will be able to explain the effects of the Warren Court rulings, identify how aid programs for developing nations and an expanded space program were intended to contain communism and help the United States stay ahead in technology, and describe the War on Poverty and analyze its successes and failures.

NJCCCS:
SOCIAL STUDIES
6.1 U.S. History: America in the World. All students will acquire the knowledge and skills to think analytically about how past and present interactions of people, cultures, and the environment shape the American heritage. Such knowledge and skills enable students to make informed decisions that reflect fundamental rights and core democratic values as productive citizens in local, national, and global communities.
6.1.13. Postwar United States: Civil Rights and Social Change
A. Civics, Government, and Human Rights
6.1.12.A.13.a Analyze the effectiveness of the New Jersey Constitution of 1947, New Jersey Supreme Court decisions (i.e., Hedgepeth and Williams v. Trenton Board of Education), and New Jersey’s Law Against Discrimination (i.e., P.L. 1945, c.169) in eliminating segregation and discrimination.
6.1.12.A.13.b Analyze the effectiveness of national legislation, policies, and Supreme Court decisions (i.e., the Civil Rights Act, the Voting Rights Act, the Equal Rights Amendment, Title VII, Title IX, Affirmative Action, Brown v. Board of Education, and Roe v. Wade) in promoting civil liberties and equal opportunities.
B. Geography, People, and the Environment
6.1.12.B.13.a Determine the factors that led to migration from American cities to suburbs in the 1950s and 1960s, and describe how this movement impacted cities.
C. Economics, Innovation, and Technology
6.1.12.C.13.a Explain how individuals and organizations used economic measures (e.g., the Montgomery Bus Boycott, sit downs, etc.) as weapons in the struggle for civil and human rights.
D. History, Culture, and Perspectives
6.1.12.D.13.a Determine the impetus for the Civil Rights Movement, and explain why national governmental actions were needed to ensure civil rights for African Americans.
6.1.12.D.13.b Compare and contrast the leadership and ideology of Martin Luther King, Jr., and Malcolm X during the Civil Rights Movement, and evaluate their legacies.
6.1.12.D.13.c Analyze the successes and failures of women’s rights organizations, the American Indian Movement, and La Raza in their pursuit of civil rights and equal opportunities.
6.1.12.D.13.d Determine the extent to which suburban living and television supported conformity and stereotyping during this time period, while new music, art, and literature acted as catalysts for the counterculture movement.
6.1.12.D.13.e Explain why the Peace Corps was created and how its role has evolved over time.
6.1.12.D.13.f Relate the changing role of women in the labor force to changes in family structure

Key Ideas and Details
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.1 Cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of primary and secondary sources, connecting insights gained from specific details to an understanding of the text as a whole.
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.2 Determine the central ideas or information of a primary or secondary source; provide an accurate summary that makes clear the relationships among the key details and ideas.
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.3 Evaluate various explanations for actions or events and determine which explanation best accords with textual evidence, acknowledging where the text leaves matters uncertain.

Craft and Structure
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.4 Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including analyzing how an author uses and refines the meaning of a key term over the course of a text (e.g., how Madison defines faction in Federalist No. 10).
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.5 Analyze in detail how a complex primary source is structured, including how key sentences, paragraphs, and larger portions of the text contribute to the whole.
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.6 Evaluate authors’ differing points of view on the same historical event or issue by assessing the authors’ claims, reasoning, and evidence.

Integration of Knowledge and Ideas
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.7 Integrate and evaluate multiple sources of information presented in diverse formats and media (e.g., visually, quantitatively, as well as in words) in order to address a question or solve a problem.
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.8 Evaluate an author’s premises, claims, and evidence by corroborating or challenging them with other information.
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.9 Integrate information from diverse sources, both primary and secondary, into a coherent understanding of an idea or event, noting discrepancies among sources.

Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.10 By the end of grade 12, read and comprehend history/social studies texts in the grades 11–CCR text complexity band independently and proficiently.
English Language Arts Standards » Speaking & Listening » Grade 11-12

Comprehension and Collaboration
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.SL.11-12.1 Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grades 11–12 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.SL.11-12.1a Come to discussions prepared, having read and researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence from texts and other research on the topic or issue to stimulate a thoughtful, well-reasoned exchange of ideas.

Essential Questions: Why do you think the civil rights movement made gains in postwar America? What motivates a society to make changes?
Skills/Knowledge/Understandings:
Skills/Knowledge/Understandings Covered in Section:
Students will know the reasons for nonviolent passive resistance and how it helped to challenge segregation and racism, why the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965 were considered turning points in the civil rights movement, and that even though political gains were achieved during this time, many African Americans still faced economic inequality.

Skill based learning will include reading and interpreting maps, census data, graphs, charts, photographs, political cartoons, timelines and primary and secondary sources. Teachers will introduce the students to the historian’s craft (interpretation through research to compare and contrast texts in different forms and to evaluate an argument, as well as narrative and argumentative writing).

The students will acquire historical understanding of the ideological debates and confrontations of democracy, capitalism, socialism and communism; the arms race, domestic and foreign policies in the 1960’s, the Civil Rights Movement, the Women’s Movement, Native American struggles, and that the struggle for individual rights and equality often shapes a society’s politics.

Objectives:
Students will be able to describe the different tactics used during civil rights protests and explain why they were successful, explain how the Civil Rights Act of 1964 allowed the federal government to fight racial discrimination, and analyze reasons that some people turned to violence to further the civil rights movement.
