

How Do We Use Light?

Light is all around us. We use light in many ways. Our eyes use light to see things. Light bounces off objects and illuminates them. The light passes into our eyes and we are able to see.

When it is dark outside people use flashlights to create light so they can see.

Sometimes lights are used as decorations for celebrations. Light from the sun can be turned into electricity. Plants use light to make food.

Some lights give people information. For example, traffic lights tell people when to stop and when to go.
