INTRODUCTION

The Orange Township Public School District is committed to providing every student with the opportunity to attend school in a safe environment that promotes learning for all children. The goal of the Code of Student Conduct is to provide clear and concise parameters for student conduct and discipline. The purpose is to establish an atmosphere for discipline, which creates support for positive personal growth and achievement.

All students, staff, and parents of the Orange Township Public School District must fully understand the expectations for student behavior while attending our schools, attending school-sponsored activities, or utilizing bus services provided by the district. We expect students to behave responsibly, to respect the property of others, and to work cooperatively with all members of the school community. Thus, when students commit an offense, they must be redirected to grow as citizens and to ensure they obtain maximum benefit from the educational offerings. The Orange Township Public School District has developed strategies that are fair and consistent, designed to improve behavior while ensuring the rights of all.

The administration must take responsibility to create and maintain a safe school environment in collaboration with staff, students, parents, and the school community. All schools must have established practices and routines that teach and reinforce appropriate student behavior in school and classrooms. The Code of Student Conduct represents a proactive approach to establish a school environment that is safe and encourages student self-discipline to minimize the use of exclusionary interventions for students who violate the Discipline Policy.

Positive Expectations for Student Conduct

Students shall be provided with expectations about how they should conduct themselves at school, at school-sponsored events, and on Orange Township Public School District buses and other Orange Township Public School District vehicles.

Positive statements include:

- My words, actions, and attitudes demonstrate respect for others and myself at all times.
- I demonstrate pride in myself, in my future, and in my school by arriving on time, dressed appropriately, and prepared to focus on my studies.
- I always seek the most peaceful means of resolving conflict and obtain the assistance of teachers, administrators, or school staff when I am unable to resolve conflicts peacefully on my own.
- I seek to correct any harm that I have caused to others in the school community.
- I take pride in promoting a safe and clean learning environment at my school.

STAFF RESPONSIBILITIES

Caring adults in schools play an important role in building strong relationships with students, which facilitates students' connection to school and decreases their likelihood of engaging in disruptive behaviors. All school staff members will seek ways to develop meaningful relationships with students, because students who have meaningful relationships with an adult in their school are less likely to engage in disruptive behaviors in class, be absent, or drop out of school.

All staff members must:

- Engage in professional development to focus on Social Emotional Learning and day-to-day developmentally appropriate practices.
- Strive to recognize and eliminate disproportionality in discipline, and administer discipline rules consistently, fairly, and equitably.
- Involve families, students, staff members, and the community in the process of fostering positive behavior and student engagement.
- Ensure clear, developmentally and age-appropriate and proportional consequences are applied to misbehavior in a way that supports personal growth and learning opportunities for all students.
- Include appropriate procedures for students with disabilities and due process for all, consistent with federal and state requirements.
- Remove students from the classroom only as a last resort and return students to class as soon as possible.
- Be equal partners to achieve successful student learning.
- Treat each student with respect.
- Teach students to solve problems in a nonviolent, positive manner through Social Emotional Learning and Restorative Practices.
- Establish clear expectations for behavior and take an instructional approach to discipline.
- Reward and acknowledge positive and appropriate conduct by students.

PARENTS/GUARDIANS RESPONSIBILITIES

Parents/guardians should:

- Collaborate with schools on initiatives to create positive, safe, supportive, and welcoming environments. They are encouraged to provide supportive services, mentoring, and other resources to assist school staff in implementing restorative practices and addressing student discipline matters, consistent with the expectations in the Student Code of Conduct.
- Work with schools to help their children access supportive groups or programs designed to improve their conduct, such as counseling, after-school programs, and mental health services within the school and community.
- Work collaboratively with the Orange Township Public School staff to address behavioral problems that their children may experience.
- Parents/guardians should talk with their children about appropriate conduct at school and help their children be active participants in creating and promoting a positive, supportive, safe, and welcoming school environment that is conducive to teaching and learning
- Ensure attendance and punctuality of their children.
- Send their children to school prepared and ready to learn.
- Provide adequate time for students to study and to complete homework on a daily basis.
- Review the Code of Student Conduct and discuss its contents.
- Attend conferences related to their child's academic or behavioral performance.
- Encourage involvement in extracurricular activities.
- Send their children to school in the proper attire to meet the district dress code.

PROMOTION OF HIGH ACADEMIC STANDARDS

The Orange Township Public Schools district is dedicated to promoting equity and high academic standards both in the classroom and through extended day, week, and year-long programs.

All students averaging below 72% in any subject receive an action plan developed by the teacher, student, and parent. The district employs multi-tiered systems of support to address academic and behavioral concerns. Student athletes must maintain a minimum 2.0 GPA and must attend daily tutoring during their sports' season(s). Additionally, gifted and talented students in Grades K-8 attend Scholars Academy one day per week for classes in STEM. High school students have opportunities to take Advanced Placement and dual enrollment courses from Syracuse University, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutgers University, New Jersey Institute of Technology, Seton Hall University, Kean University and Bard College.

Students are encouraged to participate in competitions, including but not limited to the following:

- Spelling Bee
- Geography Bee
- Law Day
- Robotics
- Film Competitions
- Page Turners
- Art Expos
- Band Competitions
- Vocal Music Competitions
- Poetry Slam
- Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship
- Math 24
- Middle School Math
- Distributive Education Clubs of America
- Debate
- Health Occupations Students of America
- Bridge
- International Thespian Society
- Juniors Achievement
- Incentives from on-line programs

Students create academic goals at the beginning of the year in each class and meet with their teachers at predetermined intervals to measure their growth towards their goals and the New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS). Additionally, academic achievement is recognized through the Principal's Honor Roll, High Honor Roll, Honor Roll, National Junior Honor Society, National Honor Society, BETA, and Seal of Bi-literacy.

College and career pathways are established early, including STEM and summer camps aimed at exposing students to a variety of post-high school possibilities. The Orange Township Public Schools continually promotes high academic standards, which are measured through formative, summative, and authentic assessments. The data from multiple sources is analyzed and used to promote academic achievement.

SOCIAL EMOTIONAL LEARNING AND RESTORATIVE PRACTICES

Social Emotional Learning (SEL):

The Orange Township Public School District is committed to the Social Emotional Learning (SEL) of its students by providing safe, nurturing, and inviting learning environments.

SEL is broken down into five categories:

- Self-Awareness: recognizing emotions and how they translate to behavior
- Self-Management: Ability to regulate one's feelings and behavior
- Social Awareness: Being willing to understand and respect other's experiences
- Relationship Skills: Being able to develop healthy relationships
- Responsible Decision-Making: Making safe and healthy choices

Long-term SEL improves our students' attitudes toward learning and self-efficacy, bolsters graduation rates, increases enrollment in higher institutions, builds greater capacity for workplace success and improves mental health.

Promoting Positive Student Behavior

School culture and climate have a profound impact upon students' academic progress and their relationships with peers and adults. Each school is expected to promote a positive school culture that provides students with a supportive environment in which to grow both socially and academically.

Schools are expected to take a proactive role in nurturing students' pro-social behavior. Social-emotional learning must be a basic component of a school's program of universal prevention for all students. Effective social-emotional learning helps students develop fundamental life skills, including:

When students develop these skills, they experience more positive relationships with peers, engage in more positive social behaviors and are less likely to engage in misconduct.

Establishing a school wide tiered framework of behavioral supports and interventions is essential to implementing progressive discipline. The goal of behavioral supports is to foster resiliency, help students understand and follow school rules, and support them in developing the skills they need to meet behavioral expectations.

School staff members are also responsible for addressing inappropriate student behaviors that disrupt learning. Administrators, teachers, counselors, and other school staff are expected to engage all students in intervention and prevention strategies that address a student's behavioral issues and discuss these strategies with the student and his/her parent(s).

Intervention and prevention strategies include:

- Support and services to address personal and family circumstances
- Social-emotional learning
- Conflict resolution
- Peer mediation
- Collaborative negotiation

- Restorative practices (e.g., circles, formal restorative conferences)
- Anger management
- Stress management
- Collaborative problem solving
- Communication skills acquisition
- The use of alternate instructional materials and/or methods; enrichment services
- Development or review of functional behavioral assessments and behavioral intervention plans, which should be developed and/or reviewed as an early intervention strategy

If, at any time, school officials suspect that a student's difficulties may be the result of a disability which may require special education services, the student should be referred immediately to the Child Study Team (CST).

Through the use of supports and intervention strategies that engage students and give them a clear sense of purpose, school staff members facilitate students' academic and social-emotional growth and assist them in following school rules and policies.

Equally important, student engagement is integral to creating a positive school culture that fosters students' social-emotional growth and academic achievement. Providing students with multiple opportunities to participate in a wide range of social activities, and to develop appropriate interpersonal relationship with staff.

Examples can include:

- Meaningful opportunities to share ideas and concerns and participate in school wide initiatives (e.g., student government, regularly held student forums, and school wide community assistant projects).
- Student leadership development
- Co-curricular afterschool activities (e.g., student clubs, including sports related clubs, assistant organizations, and team sports).
- Recognition of students' achievements in a wide range of academic and co-curricular areas such opportunities, coupled with a comprehensive program of prevention and intervention support services, provide students with the experiences, strategies, skills, and support they need to thrive.

Restorative Practices

Restorative Practices are processes that proactively work to build healthy relationships and create a sense of, and a commitment to, a community that helps to prevent and address conflict and wrongdoing, as follows:

- Involve and empower those that are impacted; however, participation is always voluntary.
- Challenge the mindset of all involved to examine their roles, attitudes, beliefs and behaviors specifically around wrongdoing.
- Utilize techniques to proactively build a positive community, such as recognizing and celebrating desirable community actions and behaviors, and establishing community expectations.

Restorative Practices do not negate the need for disciplinary consequences; rather, they enable students to examine their attitudes and behaviors in a supportive environment while working to repair harm in a way that is meaningful to those who were affected. When employed with fidelity, restorative practices encourage a positive school climate that promotes and sustains teaching and learning.

Restorative Justice is a philosophy that challenges members of a school community to:

- Focus on the harm caused by wrongdoing more than the rule or law that was broken.
- Empower victims and demonstrate equal concern for their needs within the discipline process.
- Support students who have harmed others while encouraging them to take personal responsibility for their actions and understand, accept, and fulfill their obligation to repair the harm that has occurred.
- Encourage collaboration and reintegration, rather than punishment and isolation.
- Involve individuals who have harmed others in the decision-making around consequences.
- Anticipate and address situations that may challenge a school community, such as physical conflict or re-entry of members into the community who have been apart for disciplinary reasons.

A Restorative approach to discipline changes the fundamental questions that are asked when a behavioral incident occurs. Instead of asking who is to blame and how those engaged in the misbehavior will be punished, a restorative approach asks four key questions:

- What happened?
- Who was harmed or affected by the behavior?
- What needs to be done to make things right?
- How can people have differently in the future?

Types of Restorative Practices:

Circle Process: Regular use of restorative circles within the instructional program of a school is a significant prevention and intervention strategy. The circle process enables a group to build relationships and establish understanding and trust, create a sense of community, learn how to make decisions together, develop agreements for the mutual good, resolve difficult issues, and address other issues as they arise.

Students are the largest group of stakeholders in a school community and its greatest natural resource in creating and sustaining a safe and supportive school environment. Building community among students and between students and staff member is integral to creating a supportive and inclusive school culture. When students feel accepted, valued, respected, and included, they build a positive connection to school and foster resiliency.

Community building circles focus on:

- Safety and Trust: community members need a sense of safety and trust to connect with one another.
- Honor: Members interact with fairness and integrity and acknowledge their personal responsibility for their actions.
- Openness: Community members feel free to share their thoughts and feelings.
- Respect: To bond as a community, members must feel they are valued and respected as individuals, and they must respond respectfully to one another.
- Empowerment: A sense of empowerment is a crucial element and a desired outcome of being a member of a community. Community support enables members to gain a new view of themselves and a new sense of confidence in their abilities.

When used as an intervention measure to address inappropriate student behavior, restorative circles empower community members to take responsibility for the well-being of others; prevent or deal with conflict before it escalates; address underlying factors that lead youth to engage in inappropriate behavior and build resilience; increase the pro-social skills of participants, particularly those who have harmed others; and provide wrongdoers with the opportunity to be accountable to those they have harmed and enable them to repair the harm to the extent possible. A circle can also be used in response to a particular issue that affects the school community.

Collaborative Negotiation: Using the collaborative negotiation process enables an individual to talk through an issue or conflict directly with the person with whom he/she disagrees to arrive at a mutually satisfactory resolution. Training in collaborative negotiation includes learning active listening and other conflict resolution communication skills.

Peer Mediation: An impartial, third party mediator (in a school, a student who has been trained to serve as a peer mediator) facilitates the negotiation process between conflicting parties so they can come to a mutually satisfactory resolution. Mediation recognizes that there is validity to conflicting points of view that disputants bring to the table and helps disputants work out a solution that meets both sets of needs. Disputants must choose to use mediation and must come to the process willingly. Mediation is not used where one individual has been victimized (e.g. in cases of harassment, intimidation, and/or bullying) by another.

Formal Restorative Conference: A conference is facilitated by an individual who has received specific training; in bringing together individuals who have acknowledged causing harm to others. Regardless of the circumstances, the mental and physical health, safety, and welfare of the individual who were harmed are of paramount importance when considering this option in a school setting, both sides may bring supporters to the circle who have also been affected by the incident. The purpose of the conference is for the harm-doer and the harmed to understand each other's perspective and come to a mutual agreement that will repair the harm as much as it can be repaired. A formal restorative conference may be used as an intervention in conjunction with a disciplinary response.

INTERVENTION & REFERRAL SERVICES (I&RS)

As mandated by state code (N.J.A.C. 6A:16-8), each school must establish and implement a coordinated system in which general education students are served, for the planning and delivery of intervention and referral services that are designed to assist students who are experiencing learning, behavior or health difficulties and to assist staff who have difficulties in addressing students' learning, behavior or health needs.

The Orange Township Public School District has selected a collaborative model for the operation of the school-based I&RS Team. The intervention and referral services shall be provided to aid students in the general education program by identifying the specific student challenges and through collaboration, development and implementation of an action plan to address the student's specific needs.

The purposes of an Intervention and Referral Services Program are:

- To identify learning, behavior, and health concerns of students.
- To collect thorough information on the identified learning, behavior, and health concerns.
- To develop and implement action plans which provide for appropriate school or community interventions and referrals to school and community resources.
- To collaborate and develop action plans that address desired outcomes for individual students.
- To support evaluate the students' progress and continue the necessary process.
- Refer to the Child Study Team (CST) if progress is not made.

Members of the I&RS Committee include:

- Principal or Designee
- General Education Teacher
- School Counselor
- School Social Worker
- School Nurse
- Child Study Team Members

Pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A: 16-7.2a6, parents must be actively involved in the development and implementation of I&RS action plans.

ATTENDANCE

The Orange Township Public School District requires the students enrolled in the schools of this district to attend school regularly in accordance with New Jersey State Law. The educational program offered by the Orange Township Public School District is predicated on the presence of the student and requires continuity of instruction and classroom participation. The regular contact of students with one another in the classroom and their participation in a well-planned instructional activity under the tutelage of a competent teacher are vital to this purpose.

NJ State Law requires that we document all days when a student is absent from school/virtual learning. As such, the school will monitor student attendance/virtual attendance and timely arrival throughout the year. Students who have missed 18 or more days of school/virtual school, excused or unexcused, will be labeled as “chronically absent” by the State of New Jersey.

DEFINITIONS

Chronic Absenteeism is defined in New Jersey’s ESSA State Plan as the percentage of a school’s students who are not present for 10 percent or more of the days that they were “in membership” at a school.

Cumulative Days in Membership is an element in NJ SMART defined as the number of school days in session in which a student is enrolled/registered during the annual reporting period from July 1 through June 30. The count will commence the first day the student is expected to start, even if they do not actually attend that day.

School Day in Session/Virtual Learning is a day on which the school is open and students are under the guidance and direction of a teacher(s); and the day must be 4 hours or more to be considered a full day (or at least 2½ hours for kindergarten) (N.J.A.C. 6A:32-8.3(a) and (b)).

- The number of possible days in session for a student on home instruction is the same as for other students in the program in which the student is enrolled (N.J.A.C. 6A:32- 8.1(f)).
- Schools must be in session a minimum of 180 days.
- The number of school days in session does not include summer school.
- The extended school year is included in the calculation up to June 30 and only when it is required for all students.

Five allowable reasons for absence: A school may have a day in session that would not be counted as a day in membership for a particular student for the following reasons (New Jersey School Register, Ch.3):

- Religious observance (N.J.A.C. 6A:32-8.3(h))
- A college visit (up to 3 days per school year, only for students in grades 11 and 12).
- “Take Our Children to Work Day” (pursuant to the memo issued by the Commissioner to all districts on April 25, 2017) or other rule issued by the Commissioner.
- Participation in observance of Veterans Day (N.J.S.A. 18A: 36-13.2) or district board of election membership activities. (N.J.S.A. 18A: 36-33)

- The closure of a busing district that prevents a student from having transportation to the receiving school.

Cumulative Days Present is an element in NJ SMART defined as the number of school days a student is present (not absent) when the school is in session during the annual reporting period (July 1 through June 30) and the student is recorded under the guidance and direction of a teacher in the teaching process (N.J.A.C. 6A:32-8.3). Whether a student absence is due to illness, disciplinary action, or other reason, the student may not be considered present at school unless home instruction is received. A student with an “excused” absence per district board of education policy can NEVER be considered as present.

Time present – Full Day: For a school in session during morning and afternoon, the student must be present for at least one hour in the morning and at least one hour in the afternoon to be considered as present for a full day; for a school in session during either morning or afternoon, the student must be present at least two hours to be recorded as present for the full day (N.J.A.C. 6A:32-8.3(k)), for example, twilight programs. For a half-day preschool or kindergarten session, the student must be present for at least one hour to be considered present for a full day.

Time present – Half Day: A student must be present at least one hour during any morning, afternoon, or evening session to be recorded as present one-half day (New Jersey School Register, Ch.3).

Home Instruction: A student receiving home instruction is considered present and in membership under the following circumstances:

- A student with a temporary or chronic health condition receives home instruction by a certified teacher for the number of days and length of time sufficient to continue the student’s academic progress. A student with a disability must receive home instruction consistent with the student’s Individualized Education Program (N.J.A.C. 6A:16-10.1).
- A general education student, for reasons other than a temporary or chronic health condition, receives 10 or more hours of home instruction per week by a certified teacher on at least three separate days and no fewer than 10 hours per week additional guided learning experiences (N.J.A.C. 6A:16-10.2).
- A student, when placed on home instruction through an IEP, receives 10 or more hours of instruction per week on at least three separate days by an appropriately certified teacher or teachers (N.J.A.C. 6A:14-4.8).

School-sponsored education programs: A student participating in a school-sponsored educational program under the guidance and direction of a teacher, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:32- 8.3, even if not located in the school, is considered present and in membership (e.g., field trip, structured learning experience, community-based instruction).

In-school suspensions: A student temporarily removed from his or her regular classroom to in-school suspension is considered present and in membership, provided the student is afforded the opportunity to continue to:

- Appropriately participate in the general curriculum; and
- For students with disabilities, receive the services specified on the child's IEP, and participate with nondisabled children to the extent they would have in their current placement.

Out-of-school suspensions: A student on out-of-school suspension is considered in membership and not present unless he or she receives home instruction as defined above. Students receiving short-term suspension must be provided with academic instruction that addresses the New Jersey Student Learning Standards within five days of the suspension (N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.2(a)5). Students receiving long-term suspension must be provided with educational services (academic instruction and support services) within five days of the suspension (N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.3(a)9).

Extended non-illness absences: School districts should develop a policy that determines when to record a student who is not in school for an extended period of time for reasons other than illness (e.g., travel with family) as a dropout. A student may be considered a transfer during the extended leave when the student is re-enrolled in and attending another school (in the U.S. or abroad).

PROMOTING POSITIVE STUDENT BEHAVIOR GRADES Pre-K-2

The goal of the early childhood program is to provide each child with a high quality experience from preschool through grade two and individualized supports as needed for school success. Young children entering preschool and early childhood programs come from widely divergent backgrounds and typically display a range of social and emotional behavior on the developmental continuum. There is a possibility that some young children will exhibit challenging behavior, which, if unaddressed, can negatively impact the classroom environment. Challenging behaviors exhibited by young children must be addressed in the context of a comprehensive approach to behavior support that is designed to teach, nurture and encourage positive social behaviors.

In regards to the suspension or expulsion of young students, it is essential to remind all superintendents, supervisors, principals and directors of the following under:

- Notwithstanding the provisions of N.J.S.18A:37-2 or any other provision of law to the contrary, a student who is enrolled in grades kindergarten through two in a school district or charter school shall not be expelled from school, except as provided pursuant to the “Zero Tolerance for Guns Act,” P.L.1995, c.127 (C.18A:37-7 et seq.).”
- Notwithstanding the provisions of N.J.S. 18A:37-2 or any other provision of law to the contrary, a student who is enrolled in grades kindergarten through two in a school district or charter school shall not receive an out-of-school suspension, except when the suspension is based on conduct that is of a violent or sexual nature that endangers others.
- Notwithstanding the provisions of N.J.S. 18A:37-2 or any other provision of law to the contrary, a student who is enrolled in preschool in a district or charter school shall not be suspended, and shall not be expelled from school, except as provided pursuant to the “Zero Tolerance for Guns Act,” P.L. 1995, c.127 (c.18a:37-7 et seq.).

This also applies to “partial suspension” or situations in which children are removed from their classroom and daily program, or sent home early due to challenging or inappropriate behavior. Our goal for early childhood programs is to prepare young children to be successful in school, and suspending and/or expelling young students interrupts their learning and serves as a hindrance to accomplishing that goal. More importantly, suspending or expelling young children is not an age-appropriate method for addressing behavioral problems. Additionally, there are no beneficial short-term or long-term outcomes for a child when he/she cannot be in class and school to receive the needed support services due to out of class or school disciplinary measures.

All school districts are also required under Public Law, 2016, Chapter 45; 18A:37-2b

“...to implement an early detection and prevention program that identifies students in preschool through grade two who are experiencing behavioral or disciplinary problems; and provides behavioral supports for these students, which may include, but need not be limited to, remediation of problem behaviors, positive reinforcements, supportive interventions, and referral services. An early detection and prevention program may be incorporated into the intervention and referral services required to be established in each school pursuant to State Board of Education regulations.”

Schools should seek to involve families, administrators, teachers and other auxiliary staff to provide support to children and prepare them for successful preschool and early childhood experiences. Schools should utilize New Jersey's Social and Emotional Learning Competencies and Sub-Competencies, which are guidelines for integrating social-emotional learning across all grades, content areas and learning domains. They focus on areas of social-emotional learning, including self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, responsible decision-making and relationship building. These competencies can help children develop the necessary knowledge, attitudes and skills for managing emotions, self-regulation, constructive goal setting, positive relationship building and responsible decision making. A variety of resources to assist schools and families to help students develop social and emotional competence, can be found on the Department's Social and Emotional Learning. These resources include: Social Emotional Learning Resources in New Jersey, Information and Resources, Lesson Plans and Activities, Character Education Programs, Parent Tool-Kit, Parent Fact Sheet, Parent resources for Social and Emotional Development and for the Center on the Social and Emotional Foundations for Early Learning.

This Disciplinary Response Matrix represents the Orange Township Public Schools District Code of Student Conduct. The Matrix provides a suggested continuum of tiered disciplinary responses.

If principals determine that there are unique or exceptional circumstances, or an imminent threat of serious harm to students or staff, that warrant an intervention or disciplinary response at a level that is above the highest level or below the lowest level indicated on the Matrix, principals must consult with the Superintendent or his designee.

2. The superintendent of schools' designee limits the duration of the exclusion to the shortest period practicable.
3. The school system provides the excluded student with comparable educational services and appropriate behavioral support services to promote a successful return to the student's regular academic program.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DISCIPLINE, SUSPENSION AND EXPULSION

6A:14-2.8 Discipline/suspension/expulsions

For disciplinary reasons, school officials may order the removal of a student with a disability from his or her current educational placement to an interim alternative educational setting, another setting, or a suspension for up to 10 consecutive or cumulative school days in a school year. Such suspensions are subject to the same district board of education procedures as nondisabled students. However, at the time of removal, the principal shall forward written notification and a description of the reasons for such action to the case manager and the student's parent(s).

- The district board of education is not required by 20 U.S.C. §§1400 et seq. or this chapter to provide services during periods of removal to a student with a disability who has been removed from his or her current placement for 10 school days or less in that school year, provided that if services are provided to general education students for removals of 10 or fewer days duration, students with disabilities shall be provided services in the same manner as students without disabilities during such time periods for removals of 10 or fewer days.

School district personnel may, on a case-by-case basis, consider any unique circumstances when determining whether to impose a disciplinary sanction or order a change of placement for a student with a disability who violates a school code of conduct.

Removals of a student with a disability from the student's current educational placement for disciplinary reasons constitutes a change of placement if:

- The removal is for more than 10 consecutive school days.
- The student is subjected to a series of short-term removals that constitute a pattern because they cumulate to more than 10 school days in a school year and because of factors such as the length of each removal.

Disciplinary action initiated by a district board of education which involves removal to an interim alternative educational setting, suspension for more than 10 school days in a school year or expulsion of a student with a disability shall be in accordance with 20 U.S.C. § 1415(k), as amended and supplemented. (See chapter Appendix A.) However, the period of removal to an interim alternative educational setting of a student with a disability in accordance with 20 U.S.C. § 1415(k) shall be for a period of no more than 45 calendar days.

In the case of a student with a disability who has been removed from his or her current placement for more than 10 cumulative or consecutive school days in the school year, the district board of education shall provide services to the extent necessary to enable the student to progress appropriately in the general education curriculum and advance appropriately toward achieving the goals set out in the student's IEP.

When it is determined that a series of short-term removals is not a change of placement, school officials, in consultation with the student's special education teacher and case manager shall determine the extent to which services are necessary to enable the student to progress appropriately in the general curriculum and advance appropriately toward achieving the goals set out in the student's IEP.

When a removal constitutes a change of placement, and it is determined that the behavior is not a manifestation of the student's disability, the student's IEP team shall determine the extent to which services are necessary to enable the student to progress appropriately in the general curriculum and advance appropriately toward achieving the goals set out in the student's IEP.

LEVELS OF RESPONSES

Consequences can be tailored to address individual circumstances; therefore, they may be listed below in more than one level.

	Examples of Classroom and Teacher-led Responses
LEVEL 1	These responses are designed to teach appropriate behavior so that students are respectful and can learn and contribute to a safe environment. Teachers are encouraged to implement a variety of teaching and classroom management strategies. When appropriate, teachers may engage the student's support system to ensure successful learning and consistency of responses, and change the conditions that contribute to the student's inappropriate or disruptive behavior. These responses should be used in a graduated fashion.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Classroom-based responses (e.g., verbal correction, written reflection/apology, reminders/redirection, role play, daily progress sheet)• In – School Intervention• Restorative practices• Peer mediation• School-based conflict resolution	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• School-based conferencing• Parent/guardian outreach (contact parent/guardian via telephone, e-mail, or text)• Informal and/or preventative school-based mentoring• Check-in with school counselor/resource specialists
	Examples of Teacher-led/referred and Administrative Supported Responses
LEVEL 2	These responses are designed to teach appropriate behavior so that students are respectful and can learn and contribute to a safe environment. Many of the responses engage the student's support system and designed to alter conditions that contribute to the student's inappropriate or disruptive behavior. These responses aim to correct behavior by stressing its severity and acknowledging potential implications for future harm, while still keeping the student in school . These responses should be used in a graduated fashion. A teacher referral for administrative support is required for any serious incident or other incident that may impact or implicate the health or well being of students.

LEVEL 3	Examples of Administrative Supported and/or Removal Responses These responses engage the student's support system to ensure successful learning and to alter conditions that contribute to the student's inappropriate or disruptive behavior. These responses aim to correct behavior by stressing its severity and acknowledging potential implications for future harm, while still keeping the student in school. These responses may involve in-school suspensions or in-school interventions. Such a removal should be limited as much as practicable without undermining its ability to adequately address the behavior. These responses should be used in a graduated fashion with administrative support. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Classroom-based responses (e.g., verbal correction, written reflection/apology, reminders/redirection, role play, daily progress sheet) • Behavioral contract • Parent/guardian and student conference (with administrator) • Informal/preventative/formal mentoring • Referral to community-based organization • Referral to student support team • Detention • Temporary removal from class • In-school suspension • In-school intervention • Community conferencing • Functional Behavioral Assessment/Behavioral Intervention Plan in cases of extreme behaviors • School-based or outside facilitated conflict resolution • Referral to appropriate substance abuse counseling services • Referral to health/mental health services • Restorative practices • Loss of privileges/removal from extracurricular activities • Restitution
LEVEL 4	Examples of Administrative Supported, and Short-Term Out-of School Exclusionary Responses These responses address serious behavior while keeping the student in a school. When necessary, due to the nature of the behavior or potential implications for future harm, a student may be removed from the school environment. These responses promote safety of the school community by addressing self-destructive and dangerous behavior, and should be used in a graduated fashion with administrative support. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Parent/guardian and student conference (with administrator) • Loss of privileges/removal from extracurricular activities • Restitution • In-school suspension • Functional Behavioral Assessment/Behavioral Intervention Plan in cases of extreme behaviors • Formal mentoring program • Short-term out-of-school suspension (1–3 days) • Restorative practices
LEVEL 5	Examples of Long-term Administrative Supported, Out-of-School Exclusionary, and Referral Responses These responses remove a student from the school environment for an extended period because of the severity of the behavior and potential implications for future harm. They may involve the placement of the student in a safe environment that provides additional structure and services. These responses promote the safety of the school community by addressing self-destructive and dangerous behavior, and should be used in a graduated fashion with administrative support. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Restorative practices • Recommend for further action • Referral to alternative education • Referral to student support team • Restitution • Loss of privileges/removal from extracurricular activities • Out-of-school suspension Long-term (4–10 days) Extended (11–44 days) • Expulsion (exclusion from regular program for 45 days or longer)

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT/DUE PROCESS

Memorandum of Agreement:

In New Jersey, this is a uniform Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) between school districts and law enforcement officials. The MOA, which is approved by the NJ Department of Law and Public Safety and the NJ and Public Safety and the NJ Department of Education, documents the commitment for schools and law enforcement agencies to work together as equal partners to enforce the law on school grounds. The MOA also details how schools are to report suspected incidents involving alcohol or drugs, weapons, child abuse, hazing, harassment, intimidation and bullying, or problems that compromise school security or safety. School administrators use the MOA to determine their course of action when faced with matters that rise to this level.

Due Process:

Parents and students have procedural due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment with respect to discipline that involves the possibility of serious sanction and consequences such as suspension or expulsion.
