

Orange High School Seniors Bring Home the MONEY!

Submitted by Business CTE Teachers: Tereasa Venable and Glenn Gamble

High Fives to Jair McClary and Rashawn Rumble for taking top honors at the Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship (NFTE) Regional Business Plan Competition Thursday evening June 7th, shining above presentations from Newark's Eagle Academy. Rashawn's "Star Rumble" Solar Charging Cell Phone and Jair's "Making Money Moves" T-Shirt Business Plans lead the pack of business plans presented. Their research, effort and energy earned them both trophies, certificates and gift cards. CTE Supervisor Mr. Jahmel Drakeford attended the event and witnessed the victory of our scholars. Professional Judges (pictured above) from the business industry commended the research and facts presented by Jair and Rashawn. Both young men are fine examples of the great things happening in the Orange School District! The mission of NFTE is to "activate the entrepreneurial mindset and build startup skills in youth from under-resourced communities to ensure their success and to create a more vibrant society."
