
| | |
|--|--|
| 1. 2 codes used by Health Information Coders | Diagnostic and Procedure codes |
| 2. CAC is the abbreviation for | Computer Assisted Coding |
| 3. CPT-4 | Abbreviation for the fourth edition of the Current Procedural Terminology, produced by the AMA |
| 4. How many codes are there? | More than 10,000 |
| 5. medical coding | the set of symbols and numbers used to communicate specific treatments and diagnoses between a care facility and a payment provider |
| 6. medical informatics | a broad category of health data & related health care occupations that uses information technology to manage and share files containing medical records, test results, prescription history, billing details, and health insurance coverage. |
| 7. Medical informatics is also known as | health informatics |
| 8. morbidity | the incidence of disease in a population, includes all diseases, not just fatal ones |
| 9. mortality | the incidence of death in a population |
| 10. The purpose of the Diagnostic and Procedure codes are | to tell insurance companies what the patient's medical problem was and what type of care the patient received. |
